Description

With our “TFP” tool line—which stands for “Tools for Professionals”—we cater to ambitious DIYers and professionals. Here you’ll find specialty tools for virtually any purpose. The number in the name categorizes the tools according to their specific application.

The TFP-101 is a practical steel chain whip shaped like a pair of pliers. Its plier function allows for faster and easier securing of the sprocket and freewheel to sprockets than conventional chain whips. The TFP-101 is compatible with 5- to 13-speed cassette sprockets and secures the freehub to sprockets with 10–17 teeth. On top of that, it is equipped with a return spring.
