Description

Versatile Ankle Protection
When you're riding your bike through rough underbrush, G-FORM's "Pro-X" Ankle Protectors really come into their own. They're lightweight, available in two sizes, and, thanks to their compression fabric and soft protective Pads, fit snugly around your ankles. The RPT (Reaction Protection Technology) pad hardens instantly only upon impact—and then returns to its original state.

Thanks to the material's properties, the ankle guards can be made very thin, making them comfortable to wear even under long trousers. In addition to MTBs, these Knee Protectors are also suitable for water sports or skateboarding.
